IN MEMORIAM

RUTH H. ANDERSON

To have known Ruth Anderson was to have liked her. Her untimely death, early in the school year, due to an automobile accident, left all of us who knew her with the memory of a cheerful and dedicated teacher.

Sophomores were the first to have had Miss Anderson as a teacher. She came to Alta after her graduation from college to teach one of the fifth grade rooms six years ago.

Miss Anderson was known to have enjoyed a magazine article about teachers which included this statement:

> "A teacher must each year send thirty children to another teacher--proudly, lovingly, sadly--and await thirty more with ready wit, love, and eagerness."

Miss Anderson was such a teacher.

Foreword

Culture is an integral portion of our daily lives, enriching them and adding to their fullness. During the past six years, we have been exposed to almost every form of culture. In school, culture has become known to us through our academic classes, class plays, music groups, shops, and home economics classes. Extra-curricular clubs, private lessons, and personal hobbies have also added to this development.

Therefore, the yearbook staff sincerely hopes that this exposure to the creative aspect of living will serve as a basis for enjoyment and appreciation in later years and will serve to broaden us as individuals in the modern world.

The children may be modeling snowmen from clay, painting at the easel, singing, puzzles, expressing themselves in finger plays or rhymes, or working in their number or reading readiness books.

Modern Mathematics in kindergarten has proven very interesting and stimulating. The children are very aware of geometric shapes and visual patterns, sets understanding of numbers one to ten and recognition of numerals one through ten, and a readiness for addition and subtraction.

Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine parties are fun for all.

First Grade Activities

It was a most thrilling day when the first graders began reading their first words. The boys and girls learned many words throughout the year and have enjoyed reading the many humorous experiences of Dick, Jane, Sally and their friends.

Along with reading comes phonics. Phonics gave the boys and girls the ability to recognize initial, medial and final consonants, rhyming words and identifying new words by using consonant substitution.

The first encounter in numbers was recognition and understanding the numbers from one to nine and zero. Next came discovering addition and subtraction, learning the differences between tens and ones, and knowing the meaning of pennies, nickels and dimes. They also made their first acquaintances with the terms half pints, pints, quarts and inches.

Manuscript was a learning experience in which the boys and girls expressed their own ideas and thoughts. The first step in this experience was recognizing the correct formation of each letter. Then words and sentences were formed. The last step was writing simple independent stories.

Energy, plants, animals, weather, earth, and other things around us made an interesting year in science.

In social studies, units about the school, the home and the family were studied.

Social studies helped the students continue to learn about our country; its explorers, colonists, large cities, and its famous people.

The students studied about safety, health, birds, airplanes, and animals in their health and science classes.

In language arts the students improved their handwriting and spelling. They continued their study of sentence structure, punctuation, nouns, verbs, and adverbs. Use of the dictionary and the encyclopedia helped improve their language arts skills.

From that starting day they have shared all school activities which have included, besides math and science, the language arts, social studies, music, and physical education, such "fun activities" as pep meetings, roller skating parties, attending the Shrine Circus, a Christmas party, and a class picnic. Craft projects have ranged from making electric motors to black cats, proving that the year has offered variety.

Ask any seventh grader what she or he liked best this school year and the reply would be football and basketball games.

Eighth Grade Activities

We, the eighth grade class have enjoyed many activities.

We have had several parties this year celebrating such things as Christmas and Halloween. We also had a skating party which was enjoyed by all.

Athletics were enjoyed by the boys of our class. Our football team won two, lost one, and tied one. We won four and lost four during our basketball season.

We had a music contest during March and on the whole our class did very well.

Of course, all fun and no work makes a dull brain. We took mathematics, English, reading, spelling, science, social studies, physical education, music and crafts this year. Naturally there are tests which must be taken. Iowa Basic Skills Tests were taken after Christmas Vacation and considering, we all did a pretty good job.

We have all learned and enjoyed much in the eighth grade and this is just one more step toward our climb to maturity.

Freshman Activities

DEAR DIARY: Sept.--Well, the confusion has begun again. The freshmen were wandering about finding their way to science, algebra, English, homemaking, agriculture, and industrial arts. Oct.--A float can be a lots of fun but it's lots of work too. The freshmen were poking napkins in their sleep. But with all the poking, plus the benefit of the Beatles, we still did not get the prize. From all the shaking hands and rattling of dishes, it sounds like the freshmen girls were serving the faculty dinner. Nov.--The hobo skating party was a barrel of fun and laughs. Later, the kids got serious and had a political debate in English class. Dec.--At the Christmas party the freshmen girls learned a new trade, setting mouse traps. Judging from the sounds coming from the room, the boys were not very good teachers. Jan.--The junior high put on roller skates again and enjoyed an evening of fun and laughter. Feb.--The Odyssey was started in literature class. The I.Q. tests provided needed encouragement. Speech contest on February 27. Robert Anderson and Dave Delbridge received recognition in FFA Activities. March-- State speech contest in Sioux City gave Diane Jesse some good experience. April--Science projects are due. May--Our last junior high picnic. Next year, bigger and better things?

Sophomore Activities

With all of the studies and various extra-curricular activities, the sophomores have been kept pretty busy this year.

Among the variety of subjects offered were geometry, biology, Homemaking II, German I, Vocational Agriculture, and the required subjects, English II and World History. Even though the assignments do get pretty tough at times, we all found that each class had its good points, such as when we were dissecting in biology. It turned a few people's stomachs, but to most of us it was fun and quite interesting. Most of us also enjoyed making charts and pictures in history.

Besides the studies we have all found time for many of the extra-curricular activities. Many of us have gone out for athletics and music besides many of the various clubs that different individuals have joined. We also enjoyed working on the float for homecoming. Our homecoming attendant was Jayne Launderville and the escort was Doug Mortensen. Next we had a hobo skating party with the freshmen. We all enjoyed the many school dances.

Junior Activities

That wonderful year, 1964-65, marked a memorable time for the junior class. The first major undertaking was that of putting napkins, chicken wire, and paper mache together to produce our float. A completely new experience followed--that of staging our play, "Seventeenth Summer." The cast will long remember the weeks of practice and worrying about the final production, the cueing a forgotten line, and the tense moments hoping that the crew would ring the telephone, hit the door chimes, and honk the horn at the right times. All the effort and work put forth proved to be worth while and contributed to an experience that was very meaningful to the juniors.

After the excitement and rush connected with the play, the juniors could again settle down to studying. A wide range of classes were available to us: chemistry, German II, Homemaking III, Algebra II, shorthand, Vocational Typing, Vocational Agriculture III, Industrial Arts II, and of course the required English III and U.S. History.

An added responsibility that being a Junior brings is that of working in the concession stand at football and basketball games. The proceeds from this activity went towards paying for that highlight of the year--the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom.

This year held many memorable experiences for the Juniors, and because of them, they know that life is a serious, meaningful, and joyous experience.

"Seventeenth Summer"

Curt Hammond (Jack Duluth)

Mary Sievert (Angie)
Jim Norlin (Mr. Morrow), Linda Delbridge (Margaret), Kathy Bell (Kitty).

Even though the Junior Class Play was presented on Friday, November 13, and even though there were thirteen members in the cast, SEVENTEENTH SUMMER came off as scheduled under the capable direction of Mr. Edwin Reinking. The play was based on the book of the same title by Maureen Daly.

The theme of the play was centered around an experience everyone must face--that of growing up. Angie was on the verge of entering a new world. She was going to college. But her seventeenth summer was just as important a step as the giant one to college, for during that summer she came to realize what "growing up" actually meant and what it involved. She came to understand the changes being "grown up" would bring to her life; she learned how to cope with and accept these differences. At the end of the play, Angie is ready for college, a more mature, a more complete individual because of the experiences her seventeenth summer had held.

Homecoming Activities

Homecoming this year was an event that will always remain in the minds of the Alta student body as a time of excitement and thrills. All the students, especially the seniors, were hoping that the festivities would never come to an end.

Preparations started about two weeks before the date of Homecoming with getting ideas for floats and building them. Each class competed for first place which was announced at half-time.

On October 1 the crackle of a bonfire, shouts from a pep rally, and music from the band were familiar sounds at the park.

The cloudy sky and chilly weather didn't dampen the spirits of the Queen and her court as they rode in the Homecoming Parade on Friday, October 2.

The night was chilly but no one noticed as they waited for the kick-off between the Alta Cyclones and the Milford Pioneers. Following the game was the annual Homecoming Dance at the Legion Hall.

Scarlet and Black Activities

The distribution of school news is the major function of the Scarlet & Black Staff. Weekly papers are prepared and sent to the local newspaper for community publication.

In an attempt to promote good journalism, the staff considers gossip columns taboo. Rather, columns concerning group participation are promoted. Academic news, as well as news concerning extra-curricular activities, is carefully prepared for public consumption.

Feature articles concerning senior personalities, teacher interviews and special events are brought to the reading public's attention through the Scarlet & Black section of the local newspaper. In addition, weekly editorials expressing the co-editors opinions about various controversial and other confronting issues, are also included.

The Scarlet & Black co-editors and staff have succeeded in presenting an interesting, informative picture of school life as it evolves during the changing school year.

Cyclone Activities

The Cyclone, the Alta School Yearbook, is an annual pictoral record of our activities for the year. The year started when the co-editors and assistant editors went to Storm Lake to the Yearbook Clinic. The American Yearbook representative taught us good and poor features of a yearbook. We also discussed selling and layouts of a good yearbook.

The work of the staff started with the selling campaign which took place in the fall. We set a sales record as 97% of the families with children in grades ten through twelve purchased one or more yearbooks. The top salesman was Elaine Parris who sold 33 yearbooks. Other top sellers were: Adeline Alderson with 25, Linda Siebels with 22, Jill Anderson with 20, and Debbie Hansen with 19.

The selling was followed by long and busy days of picture taking, and finally by the laying out and publishing of the yearbook.

We wish to thank all those who took part in making the 1965 yearbook a great success. This years yearbook contained a total of eighty-eight pages which is the largest book which has been produced at Alta.

German Club Activities

The highlight of the German Club activities this year was the dance after the Milford basketball game which featured Billy Redman's Band.

The Christmas caroling party was an activity which everyone enjoyed. The members sang German carols at the Nursing Home, the hospital, and homes of residents of German descent or interest.

German Club meetings are held twice a month and feature a film or German reading. German bingo or German songs provide recreation. Lunch is served.

FHA Activities

The Alta chapter of Future Homemakers of America is an organization of girls who have taken a homemaking course in high school. Chapter activities provide opportunities for students to have additional experiences in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking in an atmosphere of unity and cooperation.

The year's activities started with a picnic for all girls interested in joining FHA. Many girls enjoyed attending the District Convention held in October at Sioux Center where Susan Moser was installed as Vice-President of District I.

In October we went trick-or-treating for UNICEF. December was a busy month--first the bake sale, followed by the very formal Christmas dance.

In March one of our members, Linda Meyer, was elected as secretary of the Iowa State Association at the annual State Convention held in Des Moines.

On May 13, we had the installation of new 1965-66 officers, and thus concluded a very active and educational year.

FFA Activities

The Alta Chapter of the Future Farmers of America have been kept busy with their many activities this past year. Our chapter holds regular business meetings every month which are followed by some type of recreation. At the beginning of our calendar year in June we elected our officers for the year which was followed a month later with leadership school at Graettinger. In August we held our annual project tour where each member displays his livestock project. A week later the officers went to Okoboji for a three day vacation.

Our chapter entered judging teams at both the Buena Vista and Clay County Fairs and also had many livestock exibitions in the lamb and hog shows. Lynn Osborne exibited livestock at the state fair in Des Moines. We had many champion and reserve champion ribbons brought home from these fairs. Our Clay County Judging team placed third out of fifty-five teams entered. Our team also took part in the judging at Sac City where they placed high. In September our chapter took part in the FFA District Soil Judging Contest which was held at Sutherland.

For our money making project our chapter again sold fruit which came to around four hundred boxes. Our chapter also took on a job for the community which included cleaning many of the vacant windows on main street. For our Christmas activities, we held a Christmas party and for the first time we were co-sponsors of the Christmas Dance with the FHA. Our chapter sent a judging team to Graettinger to the Seed and Weed Idenification Contest which was the first time we ever participated in this type of contest. This was followed by the FFA District Speech Contest held at Alta. Our parliamentary procedure team, extemporaneous speaker, and creed speaker all received silver ratings.

Many of the members took part in the Buena Vista County Hog Judging Show at Strom Lake. At the end of March we played a junior and senior basketball game with the Aurelia FFA Chapter.

Directly following National FFA Week, our chapter held its Parent and Son Banquet at which the various awards were presented. We also sent voting delegates to the State FFA Convention held at Davenport.

We concluded our school year by taking part in the soil judging contest which was held at Albert City.

FTA Activities

In this the third year of the Dr. C. F. Sangston Chapter of the Future Teachers of America, we feel that we have moved even closer to achieving our purposes--to study the aptitudes which are basic to successful teaching, to acquire an understanding of our public schools, to secure information on vocational opportunities, and to participate in prevocational activities.

At our September meeting, faculty and parents were witnesses to the installation of the 1964-65 officers, conducted by Dr. Sangston.

One of the prime purposes of our organization is to further the members' knowledge of the teaching profession and what it involves. This goal is fulfilled through the Cadet Teaching Program. Each member works with one faculty member in the area of his choice. At our final meeting, the students reported on what they had gained from their student teaching experiences.

The FTA has been kept busy with many worthwhile activities this year. Several members were able to attend the district convention at Carroll. In November, several participated in Prospective Teachers Day by taking part in the activities scheduled at Westmar College. This year we also began something new for the FTA--that of managing a paper-back book stand. A committee was set up to establish requirements for an FTA scholarship to be given to a worthy senior member entering the teaching profession. The funds for this scholarship will be obtained from the proceeds of our books stand. During the year, the members were presented with several opportunities to hear speakers on the subject of teaching. In March, we went to Albert City-Truesdale for a joint meeting where we were privileged to hear the Vice-President of ISEA speak. At our April meeting a representative from Cedar Falls (SCI) spoke to the group. Eight of the FTA members were able to take part in what was perhaps one of our more meaningful activities--that of hearing John Howard Griffin, author of BLACK LIKE ME, speak at Westmar College.

The Two mile relay team of Peter Nielsen, Michael Binder, Ronald Gullickson, and Orin Huseman placed in every meet to be the stand-out baton team.

Curt Hammond in the high jump was a consistent placer as he also set a school record of five feet, nine and one-fourth inches in this event.

Other underclassmen showed promise of a brighter track future for Alta High.

Golf Season

The Alta high school boys' golf team was in its second season of interscholastic competition this year and the team experienced a successful season. Home and home matches were held with Newell and Storm Lake and single matches with Paullina, Crestland of Early and Cherokee rounded out the dual competition. Alta entered the Sectional at Cherokee and placed sixth out of ten teams. The local boys placed second in the Sac County Invitational held at Sac City. The leading golfers for Alta throughout this competition were Brian Peterson, Ronald Gullickson, Bill Dahl and Scott Schuler. These four boys comprised the school's first golf lettermen.

The Alta girls competed in golf with other schools for the first time this year. The girls had five dual matches and also entered the girls' district held at Denison. In the district meet, Alta finished fifth out of a field of eight teams. The squad was composed completely of underclassmen so the future appears bright for a successful team next year.

One of the main purposes of a cheerleader is to lead the student body in cheering for the team. To do this successfully, much practice is required. During the summer the cheerleaders practice once every week. During the year, the cheerleaders practice twice a week. One time they jump on the trampoline or tumble on the mats, and second time they practice old and new cheers.

In the fall of every year, the cheerleaders attend the annual cheerleaders clinic at the University of South Dakota. Cheerleaders from a four state area meet to learn new cheers, skits, and pep stunts. At the half of the U.S.D. football game, all the cheerleaders do a couple of cheers on the field.

In order to welcome cheerleaders from other schools, the local cheerleaders treat them at each home game.

The elementary and junior high school departed from the traditional Christmas theme this year to present the story of "The First Thanksgiving." Boys and girls from grades kindergarten though eighth grade presented the story of Thanksgiving in three scenes accompanied by songs and narrative.

"Variations and Theme of Christmas" was presented by the Glee Clubs and Mixed Chorus on December 8. These groups presented a series of songs chosen to emphasize Advent, The first Christmas, and The Gift of Christmas, and finished their concert by singing a group of lesser known Christmas carols.

The fifth annual Northwest Iowa Choral Festival was held in Cherokee, February 13, under the direction of Don Jones, Choral Director of Grinnell College. Those from Alta achieving membership in this select chorus were Judy Huseman, Jean Grienke, Brian Peterson, and Dan Dorr.

The Little Sioux Symphony invited area students to participate with the University of South Dakota Choir in the winter symphony concert. Shari Christensen, Kathy Bell, Kathy Magnuson, Candis Kjolhede, Luke Kjolhede, Douglas Sherman, Dennis Wrede, and David Coombs formed the double quartet which represented Alta.

Alta was host to the eleventh annual Tri-School Vocal Festival on March 16. The massed chorus of 180 voices from Aurelia, Albert City, and Alta was directed by Gordon Lamb of Sac City. Besides the massed chorus numbers, each school presented its mixed chorus in individual selections.

Alta competed in Class "B" for the first time this year in music contests. Results of the Solos and Ensembles Contest held at Laurens on April 23 and 24 were: Dan Dorr II, Dennis Wrede II, Jean Grienke II, Ardythe Dierenfeld II, Shari Christensen II, Luke Kjolhede, II, Judy Huseman II, Kathy Magnuson II, Kathy Bell II, Lois Koth II, Tim Stille II, Girls' Sextet II, Girls' Quartet III, Boys' Quartet III, Douglas Svendsen III, Susan Moser III, and Ann Halvorsen III.

In the Class "B" Large Groups Contest at Holstein on May 1, the Mixed Chorus received a Division I rating, Boys' Glee received a II, and Girls' Glee a III.

The final activities for the year were the Spring Concert on May 17 and an appearance at commencement.

Instrumental Music

The Alta High School Instrumental Music Department through supreme effort proved this year that they could compete on the Class "B" level as well as they had competed previously in Class "C". The Cyclone Marching Band received a Division I rating in the State Marching Band Contest at Carroll. Due to the very high wind velocity at the Tri-State Marching Band Festival at Luverne, Minnesota, the band students were unable to perform to the best of their ability and received their first "B" rating trophy in four years of competition. Other appearances by the Marching Band include the flag-raising ceremony, four home football half-time shows, the annual homecoming parade, and the Memorial Day Parade in May.

The Concert Band, which begins rehearsals after the marching season, numbered seventy-eight for all home concerts. The Winter Pops Concert was presented on December 15. The sixth annual Guest Artist Concert was presented on May 14. The guest soloist for the evening was Mr. Robert Stephenson, trombonist, of Cherokee. The Concert Band, numbering seventy, entered the Large Group Contest at Holstein on May 1. They performed Norman Lloyd's "A Walt Whitman Overture" and the last two movements of Gustav Holst's "First Suite in E Flat." Their fine performance earned them a Division I rating.

Six students were chosen to represent Alta in the Northwest Iowa Band Festival in February. They were Brian Peterson, oboe; Adeline Alderson, bassoon; Linda Lee, Linday Meyer, Linda Falck, clarinets; Douglas Lee, trombone. The Festival Band was capably conducted by Mr. Frank Piersol, Director of Bands, Iowa State University.

Linda Lee, junior clarinetist, was given the high honor of being chosen as one of the approximately eighty high school musicians selected for the United States of America High School Band which will tour the United States and Canada this summer. The music department was indeed proud to have Linda selected for this distinct honor.

The Stage Band attended the LeMars Stage Band Clinic again this year. Their concert, "Swing Into Spring IV" also provided a pleasant evening's entertainment on April 6.

The State Music Contest for solos and ensembles was held in Laurens on April 23 and 24, and in competition with schools generally much larger, Alta received nineteen Division I's: Brian Peterson, oboe; Adeline Alderson, bassoon; Linda Lee, clarinet; Dee Anne Gates, French horn; Douglas Lee, trombone; Dan Stieneke, tuba; Clarinet Trio A; Clarinet Quartet A; Sax Quartet; Woodwind Trio A; Woodwind Quartet A; Woodwind Quintet A; Woodwind Choir; Trumpet Trio A; Trombone Quartet; Brass Quartet; Brass Sextet A; Brass Sextet B; Percussion Ensemble.

Division II ratings were: Ranae Poller, flute; Gaylene Winterhof, E clarinet; Gary Bruns, oboe; Linda Meyer, clarinet; Carol Edwards, clarinet; Darlys Brechwald, alto sax; Dennis Gustafson, baritone sax; Dave Strom, trumpet; Dana Johnson, trumpet; David Boettcher, trombone; Clarinet Trio B; Clarinet Quartet B; Sax Sextet; Misc. Group of Woodwinds A; Misc. Group of Woodwinds B; Woodwind Trio B; Woodwind Quartet B; Woodwind Quintet B; Trumpet trio B; Trumpet Quartet; French Horn Quartet; Brass Choir. Division III ratings were: Jeanne Fett, flute; Keith Pierson, trumpet; Misc. Group of Brass; Mixed Clarinet Quartet.

Sixty-nine junior high and grade school soloists participated in the Northwest Iowa Junior High and Grade School Solo Contest held on the campus of Buena Vista College, March 13. These young musicians brought home four Division I plus ratings, forty-one Division I's, twenty-three Division II's and one Division III. On April 9, both the Junior High Band and the Beginners Band appeared in concert.

Many hours of preparation and rehearsal are necessary to present the many performances of the Instrumental Music Department during the year. Their schedule lessens somewhat during June and July with Tuesday night rehearsals and Wednesday evening concerts each week presented by the summer band. Instrumental lessons are given during these months. Teachers and students alike take a well-needed rest during August, until a shrill blast of the Drum Majorette's whistle reminds everyone that it's time to go to work again.

Finis

These desks stand empty now. These books are left behind. But the fond memories of friends and activities will never be forgotten. In this room, in these desks many trials and tribulations have passed. Here many happy and honored scenes have taken place. As seniors we tuck these things away in a corner of our mind now to make room for new experiences. But the memories are there to relive whenever we wish.

We leave these desks and books for those who follow us, hoping that they might experience just some of the joys we have known. We are reluctant to leave and yet we cannot tarry for there is much ahead; visions, dreams successes, heartaches, a new world for graduating seniors.
